LB Hospital Work Gets High Praise

The percentage of deaths per admission at the Lower Bucks County Hospital was much lower than the national average, Dr. John J. McGraw, Jr., president of the Medical Staff, reported at the annual meeting recently.

"These happy statistics can be attributed to the excellent nursing and medical care provided at the Lower Bucks County Hospital," Dr. McGraw declared.

He said the hospital has been inspected for approval for four General Practice residents. There were no maternal deaths in the

BUCKS CAR THEFT SUSPECT NABBED BY 'PRIVATE EYE'

Wanted Across Nation

Bucks County's "private eye" was the key figure in the arrest yesterday of a suspected cross country car thief.

William Donlen, 389 Holly Drive Levittown, the county's only licensed private detective traveled to Connecticut to arrest the suspect, who was wanted by the FBI, Pennsylvania State Police, and other authorities.

The suspect is Wilfred E. Hart, 29, who lists his home as West Haven, Conn. Hart, his wife and three children have been traveling around the country in a trailer. They spent about two weeks in a Lower Bucks Trailer Park.

Sgt. Charles Jones, commandant of the Fairless Hills barracks reported that in September Hart traded in a 1957 model car for a station wagon model at a local auto agency. Hart also received $1,100 as part of the deal.

Another Car

He later came in and returned the station wagon, and with part of the money he had received paid cash for another car. He then left the area.

It developed that the first car Hart traded had been stolen in Las Vegas, Nevada.

The auto agency, which had resold the car, reimbursed the buyer when the car was impounded.

The agency filed a complaint with JP John Melvin for Hart's arrest. Warrants were issued on charges of obtaining money under false pretense, bringing stolen property into the state, and receiving stolen goods.

Donlen Called

The agency also retained Donlen. The private detective learned Hart had filed a request for an insurance adjustment with the Osman agency, in Trenton. Hart claimed his car radio had been stolen in Lodi, N.J.

After checking with State Police and the FBI, Donlen also learned Hart left the trailer park where he had been staying on Oct. 22.

On a chance Hart might have gone home, Donlen went to West Haven Wednesday posing as an insurance adjuster. He told

Murder Suspect Held

William Schmidt, (center) 50-year-old Philadelphia, is being held in Bucks County Prison on a 30-day vagrancy sentence. He is a suspect in the 1954 slaying of Marguerite Keota in Phoenixville. With Schmidt are Quakertown patrolmen Russell Swartz

Youth's Death Laid To Deflected Slug

Bensalem Township police said the bullet that killed Harry Martin, Jr., Wednesday night near the Turnpike hit a wire fence several feet above his head and was deflected downward.

The 14-year-old Bensalem High School student died in Lower Bucks County Hospital about three hours after the accidental shooting incident.

Chief William Riemp said the bullet was fired from a .22 caliber rifle by Martin's friend, Robert Thulz, 14, of Tennessee Ave., Newportville Heights. Shultz is being held in juvenile detention home in Doylestown, charged with involuntary manslaughter.

On Ground

The chief said Martin and another friend, Charles Welsh, 14, of 1170 Clearview Ave., Newportville Heights, were lying on the ground in a field behind the turnpike's wire fence.

Chief Riemp said the bullet was one of several fired from across the pike. It hit the fence and bounced down, hitting Martin in the head, two inches above his left ear, police said. The slug split, and entered the brain, police said.

Chief Riemp investigated at the scene yesterday and found a nick in the wire above the spot where the boys had been. He said from the shape and location of the nick, the bullet must have hit there and glanced down. The Bensalem chief said his men will confiscate all firearms carried by youths under 16, unless they are accompanied by their parents or an adult.

Ammunition Sales

The chief also said, "Anyone who sells guns or ammunition to youths under 16 faces prosecution. And mark you, we'll prosecute to the limit. We're going to clear up incidents and clear them up fast."

Martin was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin, Sr., 1703

Reds Kidnap Science Aid

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Russia kidnaped more than 2,000 German scientists at the end of World War II and put them to work on Missile and satellite projects, a former Soviet army officer testified Thursday.

Vladimir Shabinsky, ex-lieutenant colonel in the Red army, told a Senate Internal Security subcommittee hearing here that Soviet espionage activity in the past 10 years enabled Russia to get a scientific jump on the rest of the world.

Shabinsky testified after subcommittee counsel Robert Morris disclosed that two top imprisoned Soviet spies told him that Russia had obtained "without sweat and tears" U.S. secrets on earth satellites, anti-missile weapons and atom-powered planes from executed agents Julius and Ethel Rosenberg and other spies.

Morris said the information came from interviews earlier in the day at Lewisburg, Pa., federal prison with David Greenglass, brother-in-law of Rosenberg, and

Bridge Group Demotes Six Sergeants

The Delaware River Joint Toll Bridge Commission in Morrisville yesterday demoted six toll sergeants in a shake-up, because, "The sergeants weren't fulfilling their full responsibilities," commission members said.

William Norton, New Jersey commission member, said the demoted men were:

George W. Dittmore, Richard M. Cook, Edward I. Matthews, Stephen W. DeKay, Richard E. McCollum, and Richard Cortright. Their salaries were reduced from $4,380 to $4,200 a year.

Replacing the six were six former toll collectors and traffic officers. They include: Richard B. Carlton, Robert Kaiser, Ernest W. Possinger, Herman P. Wildrick, and Leonard S. Felker. Their salary was increased to $4,200 each. Their former salary was $4,020.

A salary increase for most of the bi-state agency's 161 employees was announced for next year. Next year's budget was reduced $9,992 over this year's, despite the increases in salary and the addition of an $12,237.36 item for Social Securities contributions, and an additional $20,344 for toll ticket expense.

The new budget calls for $877,264, as opposed to the $887,256 budgeted this year.

Woman Dies In Mixup Of Medicines

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP)—A grand jury today planned to look into the "mistaken identity" death of a 67-year-old woman who was given a lethal dose of poison in a doctor's office yesterday.

The woman, Mrs. Margaret L. Van Alstine, died in agony in the doctor's office after Mrs. Emily Nash, 46, a laboratory technician, gave her sodium cyanide instead of a glucose mixture.

Mrs. Nash, technician to Dr. Joseph West since 1928, frantically tried to find an antidote and became hysterical when the woman died. She was hospitalized in a state of shock.

Police said Mrs. Nash, while still coherent, said the mistake

COINWORD Cash Meets Needs Of The Holidays

Could you use $100?

With Thanksgiving almost here and Christmas on its way, there's only one answer. And if you can come up with the right answer in the new COINWORD contest, you've got $100.

Turn to Page 13 and give it a whirl. There's nothing complicated to fill out, no box tops to send in, no slogans to finish. Just read the rules and see how easy it is. Why, everybody in the family — from little Bobby to Grandpa — can enter and have fun at the same time.

After reading the rules, carefully study the clues to COINWORD No. 10 and then fill in the missing squares. That's all there is to it. When you're done, either paste it on a postcard or put it in an envelope and mail it to COINWORD Editor, Courier-Times office. Either way, do-it before midnight Monday. That's the deadline for COINWORD No. 10.

Hundreds of persons tried their luck last week but nary a one could come up with the right answer. The $50 was added to this week's $50, making COINWORD No. 10 worth $100.

A word to the wise is sufficient. Don't miss out. Turn to Page 13 and you might win $100. Remember Byron Kaufman of Fairless Hills won $400 for his correct answer last week.

Cost Of Living Stabilizes After 13 Months Of Rising

WASHINGTON (UP)—The 13-month climb in the cost of living has ended, the government announced today.

Consumer prices in October held to their September levels, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported. The announcement followed a statement Thursday by Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell that the inflationary spiral has been checked.

A seasonal drop in food prices was primarily responsible for stopping the long upward push on family budgets which had occurred every month since August, 1956.

The good news was coupled with a warning, however. The Bureau of Labor Statistics predicted there may be a slightly higher over-all price index this month because of higher price tags on 1958 autos. It said this gain will offset continued seasonal drops in food prices, which are expected to hit a low point in January.

The index for October, as for September, was 121.1 per cent of a 1947-49 consumer price average. It was 2.9 per cent higher than in October, 1956.

In a separate report the Labor

Department said a half-hour reduction in factory work weeks in October chopped 85 cents a week off the take-home pay of production workers.

That drop, together with rising prices over the year, meant a 1 per cent loss in purchasing power from September and a 3 per cent drop compared with a year ago.

This loss of buying power, according to Commissioner of Labor Statistics Ewan Clague, was one reason that the price index did not rise. He noted that some people

Judge Rejects Appeal By Township Board

Building Materials Destroyed In Barn Fire

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed this barn used as a warehouse for building materials on the old Comfort Farm in Falls Park, Falls Township, shortly before midnight last night. Firemen from Falls Township No. 1, Fairless Hills, Levittown No. 1, Yardley and Union and Capitol View Companies, Morrisville, fought the blaze for two hours. Window sash, shingles, door and window frames and miscellaneous building materials were destroyed. The barn is owned by the Morrisville Manor Construction Corporation and the Barrington Manor Construction Corporation, builders of Falls Park in Pennsbury Heights. (Courier-Times Photo).

JP Upheld On Building Code Decision

Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite today rejected the appeal of Bristol Township Board of Commissioners on the justice of the peace decision which cleared Levitt and Sons, Inc. of alleged building code violations.

Judge Satterthwaite upheld the ruling handed down by JP Earl B. Dougherty, of Edgely.

The township had charged Levitt and Sons, Inc. had committed four wiring violations in more than 90 homes in the Indian Creek section of Levittown.

Dismissed Charges

The township claimed the condition was hazardous. Dougherty, after lengthy hearing, dismissed the charges.

He said the township had not proved its claim of danger.

The commissioners appealed Dougherty's decision. In rejecting their appeal, Judge Satterthwaite said they "failed to show due cause."

Falls Wins Round In Tax Appeal

The school district of Falls Township won a round in a fight for an increase in a $2 and a-half-million dollar evaluation placed by the county board of assessors on the Fairless Works of the U.S. Steel Corp.

The court authorized the township solicitor to question the assessors as to whether they took the company's own evaluation of the sprawling plant, or some other means.

If the company figures were used for the basis of the assessment, the township also may demand to know what measures were taken by the assessors to make sure the company figure was a fair one.

The evaluation on which the assessment for 1957 was based, was $75 million. A higher assessment would mean an increased school tax bill for U.S. Steel.

The appeal was taken to court after the board, headed by Chief Assessor James Nealis, refused last September to increase the assessment or to explain the source of their figures.

Delaware River Dredging To Start

The Hopper Dredge Goethals and the Sump Rehandler New Orleans are returning to the Philadelphia District on Monday and will start dredging operations in the Delaware River opposite Marcus Hook, according to Colonel William F. Powers, District Engineer for the Army Engineers.

The material dredged from the channel on Marcus Hook Range will be pumped ashore into the disposal area near Raccoon Creek in New Jersey.

Both the Goethals and the New Orleans have been on loan to the Norfolk District since early in October.

Last Man Quits Civil Service Unit

Robert D. Robinson, of 5 Edgely Ave., has resigned from Bristol Township's Civil Service Commission, leaving that three-man body without any members, it was learned today.

Robinson's resignation follows close on the heels of similar action by William Cross, of 66 Schumacher Drive, Bristol Terrace I.

Surprise Resignations

Both resignations came as a surprise and without explanation. Cross in his letter simply said he was resigning after "careful consideration."

But according to Eugene G. Kehoe, president of the township Board of Commissioners, Robinson's letter was even briefer. Neither man would comment on their actions.

The third post was already vacant. It had been empty since last March 31 when the term of Clayton Bintliff expired.

The Board of Commissioners tried to name a successor to Bintliff at their meeting Nov. 13. It seemed that Commissioner Albert H. Rogers was named to the post, but several other commissioners switched their votes. In the confusion that followed Rogers' appointment was ruled invalid on the basis of a clerical error.

Kehoe said the Board of Commissioners would probably act to fill the vacancies at its Dec. 11 meeting.

Instead of a sleigh, St. Nick will ride on a fire engine to the business center.

Kanter said Santa will greet the youngsters daily in the unique Santa house, which is 18 feet in height.

Assisting with arrangements are Richard Marchena, Paul Straus, and Gene Nichols and members of the active business men's group.

Ike Discusses Defense Budget With Cabinet

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower discussed the defense budget with his cabinet for two hours today as the United States geared for "massive" production of military missiles.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the President and the cabinet worked on the defense budget "among other things." The Chief Executive is expected to go more deeply into the missile issue when he meets with the National Security Council later today.

Chairman George H. Mahon (D-Tex.) of the House defense appropriations subcommittee Thursday forecast vital missile production decisions "very soon." He said he expects missile orders to become "massive."

Winds Fan Forest Fire

AZUSA, Calif. (UP)—A sprawling forest fire, fanned by 60-mile-an-hour winds, spread out of control over nearly 20,000 acres of the San Gabriel Mountains today causing evacuation of residents.

Some 1,000 firefighters, including a force of Indians from Albuquerque, N.M., were unable to hold against the fire and were dispatched to strategic spots in an attempt to make a stand.

Immediate aim of the fire crews was to hold the bulging line at the 5,000 foot elevation Angeles Crest Highway.

The L-shaped blaze swept up San Gabriel Canyon on a two-mile front toward Devil and Bear canyons, a lush wild area that was described as inaccessible to firefighters. It last was blackened by fire in 1924.

Million-Dollar Attraction At Bank Draws Crowds

By MAURY ALLEN
Courier-Times Staff Writer

A million dollars weighs 800 pounds.

It stands nine feet, three inches high in a glass case.

Its presence in the Western Saving Fund Society bank, which opened yesterday in the Levittown Shopping Center, requires seven Pinkerton guards, State Police officers, with the entire Tullytown police force rotating the duty. The policemen are doing the guarding on their own time.

And it's beautiful.

Early yesterday morning, State Police stood guard with machine guns as bank officials carted the money into the bank.

Transportation

The bills came from the bank's Philadelphia branch. They were guarded to City Line by Philadelphia police, and from there by State Police.

Once at the bank, the bills were put in a glass case.

The bills are all new, tightly wrapped in packages. The case contains $240,000 in $1 bills, $200,000 in $5 bills, $200,000 in $10 bills, $160,000 in $20 bills, $100,000 in $50 bills and $100,000 in $100 bills.

Close to 3,000 persons visited the bank yesterday to examine the bills. Blair Thomas, the bank manager said the hardest thing was to convince people the bills were real.

"Many people thought we just had real bills on top of bundles of paper."

Chief John Walterick, Tullytown police, when asked how he would protect the money if someone attempted to steal it, laughed.

Living Cost

"are not so prosperous as a year ago."

For a factory worker with three dependents, October take-home pay was $74.78 a week. In September it was $76.63 and in October, 1956, it was 75.03.

Most of the 0.5 per cent drop in food prices from September to October, Clague said, was due to lower meat prices, especially those for hogs.

Food Index Down

The food price index alone for the last month was 1.3 per cent below the August, 1957 peak but 2.9 per cent higher than a year ago.

Fresh fruits fell an average of 2.9 per cent while vegetable prices advanced 2.4 per cent. Eggs advanced seasonally 7.1 per cent to a national average of 70 cents a dozen.

Higher prices for fresh milk in 15 cities pushed up the average for dairy products. The cost of restaurant meals advanced slightly.

Coffee prices continued a downward trend, falling 2.6 per cent. Prices for processed fruits and vegetables showed little change.

Durable goods prices were unchanged while those for non-durables and services continued to creep upward.

An 11-year-old Levittown girl suffered a broken leg when she was hit by an automobile on Newportville Road near the Appletree Hill section of Levittown yesterday afternoon.

The girl, Evelyn Bradcock, 11, of 29 Aster Lane, Appletree Hill, was admitted to Lower Bucks County Hospital. The hospital said she is in good condition.

Bristol Township Patrolman John Harmon identified the driver of the car as Walter Kosherzenko, 35, 3126 State Road, Eddington.

Happy Stuff

A million dollars draws fond gazes and matching reactions.

One man scanned the cash and said, "I can die happy now. I've lived to see a million dollars."

Thomas Mullane, Pinkerton guard, said, "Most people stare at the money with a far away look in their eyes. It's our job to keep them far away."

Mrs. Joan Carroll, 25 Candle Road, Cobalt Ridge, Levittown, said, "Boy, wouldn't I like to try and spend that in one day."

We Agree

Mary Ann Ludwig, 21 Laurel Lane, Lakeside, Levittown, commented, "It's fantastic. That's what it is, fantastic."

Linton Clark of Mount Holly had an appropriate comment. "If I had that money, I would deposit it in the bank and make more."

The bank people were glad to hear that.

Dr. West entered the office at that time and gave Mrs. Van Alstine an adrenalin injection while Mrs. Nash frantically sought an antidote. But Mrs. Van Alstine was already dead.

Dr. West said Mrs. Nash was a dependable employee of long-standing and the unfortunate death was a case of "mistaken identity" of the drug bottles.

Cecile Readies For Wedding

CORBEIL, Ont. (UP)—The second of Canada's four surviving Dionne Quintuplets to marry this year added the final touches today to her costly trousseau in preparation for her wedding tomorrow to Philippe Langlois.

Cecile, 23, considered the most vivacious of the Quints, will marry the 26-year-old free-lance television cameraman in tiny Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church, only a short distance from the northern Ontario farmhouse which became world famous on May 28, 1934.

The couple plan a 23-day honeymoon in the United States, possibly in California, before returning to Montreal where Langlois works.

Some 90 friends and relatives were expected to attend the semi-formal wedding. Langlois, who "gets along fine" with Papa Dionne, has decided to admit newsmen to the wedding, although limiting the number of cameramen.

The Defense Department announced late Thursday the 65 million dollar base will be built at Francis E. Warren Air Force Base near Cheyenne.

The Pentagon said construction would begin "during the middle part" of next year. The base presumably would be ready about the time the United States has the Atlas fully perfected and rolling off production lines.

The missile is undergoing tests at the Cape Canaveral, Fla., testing center now.

The Pentagon did not announce the exact purpose of the new "missile site." But observers gathered from the wording of the announcement it was intended as a base for the 5,500-mile range Atlas.

Jordan, Israel Crisis Worse

By WALTER LOGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Relations between Israel and Jordan worsened today following a series of border clashes. Jordan threatened to "take necessary action" if a 37-year-old farmer allegedly kidnapped by an Israeli armed patrol was not returned by noon today, but no official sources in Amman had yet elaborated on the dramatic ultimatum. Jordan protested to the United Nations.

Newspapers in Amman, Jordan, violently attacked Israel and said the Jordanian army was standing by "ready to repulse any aggressive attempts by the Israeli enemy." Reports from Jordanian Jerusalem said citizens there were carrying arms in violation of martial law.

Denies Kidnapping Charge

Israel described the Jordan farmer as an "infiltrator," said he would be brought to trial and denied the "kidnapping" charges. An army spokesman said he was captured well inside Israeli territory and not kidnapped from Jordan.

Israeli officials have protested to the United Nations against Jordan's halting of an Israeli convoy en route to Mount Scopus, an Israeli enclave within Jordanian territory containing a hospital.
